

The Ball mill is used to grind the ore into a finer material. The slurry and steel balls move inside a cylindrical drum. The tumbling action of the 2 inch (5 cm) balls hitting the ore and the sides of the drum grind the ore into a finer material, similar to the consistency of flour.

The slurry goes back to discharge pump box and then back to the hydrocyclone.

